FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

ASHP Advantage Announces Redesigned Continuing Education Web Site for Health Care Professionals Activities available for pharmacists, physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners, and others

BETHESDA, MD, March 31, 2011 – ASHP Advantage is pleased to announce the launch of a newly redesigned website. This updated educational resource is intended to make continuing education (CE) activities easier to access for pharmacists, physicians, nurses, and other health care professionals. Multiple educational formats are accessible through the site:

- On-demand CE – Over 50 hours of innovative CE available online, anytime
- Podcasts – Faculty interviews and CE activities to listen to anywhere, anytime
- Publications – Informative e-newsletters, journal supplements, and more
- Live CE webinars – Live CE, available from the convenience of home or office
- Live CE – Regional symposia and workshops

The web portal features continuing education on numerous relevant and timely topics such as Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategies, Biosimilars and Follow-on Biologics, Antimicrobial Stewardship, Atrial Fibrillation, Safety of Intravenous Medication Use, Triple-Negative Breast Cancer, and Anticoagulation.

All of the CE activities and other educational resources are free of charge and do not require ASHP membership. ASHP Advantage takes pride in a quality, needs-based approach to providing innovative continuing education. The content development for each activity is managed by a medical professional who understands current issues in health care practice.

Visit www.ashpadvantage.com for a complete listing of topics and activities.
